We are excited to offer the NCASA Conference on Educational Leadership mobile app this year! Please visit m.magtogo.com/ncasa to download the app, which will give you access to a detailed conference schedule, venue maps, exhibitor information and booth locations, session descriptions and speaker bios! This address will detect what type of device you are using and install the app – if you don't have a compatible mobile device you may still view the app on the web from your laptop or device.

Important information about the app sign-in feature: Signing in with your email address is not required to access the schedule, maps, session descriptions or exhibitor and speaker information. If you are a conference attendee who registered for the conference before March 1, you may choose to enter your email address to access an added feature allowing messaging between conference attendees. Please note that this feature is only available to attendees registered by March 1 and is not available to exhibitors or speakers. If your email address shows as invalid or you choose to not enter your email address you may still access all other features of the app by clicking the “don't sign in” button.
